

Jordan Smith

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Career Change Web Developer

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Career Change Web Developer position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on LinkedIn. With a robust background in project management and a fervent passion for web development, I am eager to bring my unique skill set to your team. Acme's commitment to innovation and quality aligns perfectly with my aspirations to grow in a dynamic environment where I can contribute meaningfully.

In my previous role as a Project Manager at Tech Solutions, I successfully led a team to develop an internal project management tool that reduced project delivery times by 30%. This experience ignited my interest in coding, prompting me to pursue web development through intensive self-study and coursework. I have since created and deployed several personal projects, including a responsive portfolio website and a local business directory web app, both of which utilized HTML, CSS, and JavaScript. Through these projects, I honed my technical skills and learned the importance of user-centric design and functionality.

I am particularly drawn to this role at Acme Corporation because of your innovative approach to web solutions. I believe that my ability to bridge the gap between technical and non-technical stakeholders will be invaluable in understanding user needs and translating them into effective web applications. I am eager to discuss how my background in project management, coupled with my newly acquired web development skills, can contribute to the innovative projects at Acme.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my candidacy further and how I can contribute to your team.

Sincerely,

Jordan Smith