

Jessica A. Thompson

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: English Teacher

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the English Teacher position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With a profound passion for literature and language, combined with my dedication to fostering a love for English in students, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your esteemed institution.

In my previous role at Lincoln High School, I successfully implemented a creative curriculum that increased student engagement in English literature classes by 30%. By incorporating modern technology and diverse literary sources, I was able to create a more inclusive learning environment, allowing students from various backgrounds to connect with the material. Additionally, I spearheaded an after-school writing club that not only improved writing skills among participants but also led to the publication of a student anthology, showcasing their original works. This experience taught me the value of mentorship and the impact of fostering creativity in young minds.

I am particularly impressed by Acme Corporation's commitment to innovative teaching practices and student-centered learning. I am eager to bring my background in differentiated instruction and my passion for integrating literature with real-world applications to your team. I believe that creating an inspiring learning environment is essential for student success, and I am excited about the possibility of contributing to this mission at Acme Corporation.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss how my experiences and vision align with the goals of your English department. I am excited about the possibility of contributing to the academic success of your students and the vibrant community at Acme Corporation.

Sincerely,

Jessica A. Thompson