

Jordan Taylor

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Entry Level Dot Net Developer

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the Entry Level Dot Net Developer position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on your careers page. As a recent graduate with a Bachelor's degree in Computer Science from State University, I am eager to begin my professional journey with an innovative company like yours, known for its commitment to technology and excellence in software development.

During my academic career, I completed a capstone project where I developed a web application using ASP.NET and C#. This application streamlined the process for a local non-profit organization by enabling users to register for events online, reducing manual work by over 40%. Additionally, I interned with Tech Solutions, where I assisted in the development of a customer relationship management (CRM) system. This experience not only honed my programming skills but also taught me the importance of collaboration within a development team, as I regularly communicated with colleagues to implement user feedback and optimize system performance.

I am particularly drawn to this role at Acme Corporation because of your focus on cutting-edge development practices and your dedication to mentoring new talent. I am confident that my educational background, combined with my hands-on project experience, has equipped me with the foundational skills needed to contribute effectively to your team. I am excited about the opportunity to collaborate with experienced developers and further enhance my skills in a dynamic environment.

I look forward to the possibility of discussing my application in more detail and exploring how I can contribute to the innovative projects at Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application. I am eager to bring my passion for software development to your team.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor