

Jordan Taylor

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Entry Level React Native Developer

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Entry Level React Native Developer position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on LinkedIn. With a strong passion for mobile app development and a solid foundation in React Native, I believe I would be a great fit for your innovative team. I am particularly drawn to Acme Corporation's commitment to leveraging technology for seamless user experiences, and I am eager to contribute my skills to enhance your mobile offerings.

During my academic career at State University, where I earned my degree in Computer Science, I had the opportunity to lead a team project that developed a mobile application using React Native. This application, designed to help users track their fitness goals, was recognized at our university's tech fair, winning the 'Best Innovation' award. Furthermore, I completed an internship at Tech Solutions where I contributed to a project that improved an existing React Native app by implementing new features based on user feedback, ultimately increasing the app's rating by 30% in the app store. These experiences honed my skills in JavaScript and mobile app development, while also instilling a strong sense of user-centered design.

I am particularly impressed by Acme Corporation's recent projects in the mobile space, and I am eager to bring my background in developing user-friendly applications to your team. I am looking forward to the opportunity to further discuss how my skills and experiences align with the goals of Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application; I hope to speak with you soon.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor