RE: Freelance To Full Time Speech Language Pathologist

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am thrilled to apply for the Freelance To Full Time Speech Language Pathologist position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on your company's careers page. With a strong background in speech-language pathology and a passion for fostering communication skills in diverse populations, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team and the clients you serve.

In my previous freelance role, I successfully worked with children ages 3-12 who exhibited a range of speech and language disorders. One notable achievement involved developing a customized intervention plan for a child with a severe speech delay, resulting in significant progress within just three months, as evidenced by increased speech intelligibility and positive parent feedback. Additionally, I led group therapy sessions focusing on social communication skills for children on the autism spectrum, where I implemented creative, engaging activities that promoted peer interactions and improved overall language use.

As I transition from freelancing to a full-time position, I am particularly drawn to Acme Corporation's commitment to evidence-based practices and community engagement. I believe my hands-on experience combined with my dedication to continuous professional development will enable me to make a valuable contribution to your team. I am eager to discuss how my background and skills align with the goals of Acme Corporation and how I can support your clients' communication needs.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the opportunity to discuss my qualifications further and explore how I can contribute to the exceptional work being done at Acme Corporation.

Sincerely,

Jessica Taylor
