

Emily Johnson

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Internship Cardiologist

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiastic interest in the Internship Cardiologist position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With a strong foundation in cardiology through my medical training and a genuine passion for advancing heart health, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your esteemed team and gain invaluable experience in a leading cardiology practice.

During my clinical rotations, I successfully completed a cardiology rotation where I was involved in diagnosing and managing patients with various cardiovascular conditions. I contributed to a team project aimed at improving patient outcomes in heart failure cases, which resulted in a 15% increase in patient adherence to prescribed treatment plans. Additionally, I participated in research focused on the effects of lifestyle modifications on heart health, which was later presented at a national conference, showcasing my ability to bridge the gap between clinical practice and research.

My experience volunteering at a local health clinic, where I conducted cardiovascular screenings and provided education on heart disease prevention, has further solidified my commitment to public health and patient education. I strongly believe that combining clinical excellence with patient-centered care is essential for effective cardiology practice. I am eager to bring my proactive approach, strong analytical skills, and dedication to patient care to Acme Corporation.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasms align with the goals of your cardiology team. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of contributing to Acme Corporation and hope to speak with you soon.

Sincerely,

Emily Johnson