

Jessica Lin

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Internship Genetic Counselor

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the Internship Genetic Counselor position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With a strong background in genetics and counseling, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team and support families navigating genetic complexities. My education in Genetic Counseling from the University of California, Berkeley, coupled with my hands-on experience in clinical settings, has prepared me well for this role.

During my graduate studies, I completed a clinical rotation at a leading medical center, where I provided genetic counseling to over 30 patients and their families. This experience honed my skills in interpreting genetic test results and communicating complex information clearly and compassionately. I successfully assisted a family in understanding the implications of a BRCA1 mutation, guiding them through their options with sensitivity and professionalism. Additionally, I led a project in collaboration with the local health department to increase awareness of genetic testing among underserved communities, reaching over 200 participants through workshops and informational sessions. This initiative not only improved access to genetic services but also reinforced my commitment to equitable healthcare.

I am particularly drawn to Acme Corporation's mission of advancing patient-centered genetic counseling and would be thrilled to contribute my skills to your innovative projects. I am eager to discuss how my background and passion for genetics can align with your team's goals. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to the possibility of contributing to the important work at Acme Corporation.

Sincerely,

Jessica Lin