

Emily Johnson

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Internship Midwife

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the Internship Midwife position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With a strong passion for maternal and newborn health, I am eager to contribute to your team and support women during one of the most significant times of their lives.

During my clinical placement at City General Hospital, I had the opportunity to assist in over 30 births, where I developed my skills in prenatal care, labor support, and postpartum education. One notable experience was when I helped a first-time mother navigate a challenging labor. Through active listening and providing continuous support, I was able to help her achieve a positive birth experience. Additionally, I initiated a project aimed at enhancing prenatal classes, which resulted in a 20% increase in attendance, as well as improved feedback from participants regarding their confidence levels in labor and delivery.

I am particularly drawn to Acme Corporation's commitment to holistic care and community outreach programs that empower women and families. I believe my proactive approach and my solid foundation in midwifery will allow me to contribute effectively to your mission. I am excited about the possibility of further discussing how my background and skills align with the goals of your team. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,

Emily Johnson