

Jordan Lee Thompson

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Internship Speech Pathologist

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the Internship Speech Pathologist position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With my academic background in Communication Sciences and Disorders from the University of California, Berkeley, and my hands-on experience in various clinical settings, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team and support individuals in overcoming speech and language challenges.

During my time at university, I completed an internship at the Speech and Hearing Clinic, where I assisted licensed speech pathologists in developing and implementing therapeutic activities tailored to diverse client needs. One of my key achievements was collaborating on a project focused on enhancing communication skills in children with autism spectrum disorder, where we utilized visual aids and interactive games. This experience not only honed my ability to create engaging therapy sessions but also deepened my understanding of individualized treatment planning. Additionally, I volunteered at a local rehabilitation center, where I helped facilitate group therapy sessions for adults recovering from stroke, leading to improved participation and social interactions among the patients.

I am particularly drawn to Acme Corporation due to your commitment to evidence-based practices and innovative therapeutic approaches. I am eager to bring my passion for speech pathology and my proactive approach to learning to your esteemed organization. I would love the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasm align with the needs of your team. Thank you for considering my application, and I look forward to the possibility of contributing to Acme Corporation.

Sincerely,

Jordan Lee Thompson