Acme Corporation

RE: Internship Ux Researcher

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Internship Ux Researcher position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on LinkedIn. As an enthusiastic user experience design student at State University, I am eager to contribute my skills and passion for user-centered research to your innovative team. Acme's commitment to enhancing user experiences aligns perfectly with my academic background and career aspirations.

During my recent project in my Human-Computer Interaction course, I led a team of four in conducting a usability study for a mobile application aimed at college students. We employed various research methods, including surveys, user interviews, and A/B testing, which resulted in a 30% increase in user satisfaction scores after implementing our recommendations. Additionally, I interned at a local startup where I assisted in developing user personas based on extensive user interviews, which helped the design team create features that significantly improved engagement metrics by 25% over three months.

I am particularly drawn to this internship at Acme Corporation because of your focus on data-driven design solutions and your collaborative approach to user research. I am eager to bring my analytical skills and passion for creating positive user experiences to your team. I would love the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasms align with the goals of Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor
