

Jordan Taylor

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Internship Vp Sales

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Internship Vp Sales position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on your careers page. As a driven and enthusiastic business student with a keen interest in sales strategy and leadership, I am eager to contribute to your team and learn from the innovative approaches Acme is renowned for in the industry.

During my recent internship at XYZ Enterprises, I played a pivotal role in a project that revamped our sales strategy, leading to a 20% increase in quarterly revenue. By analyzing customer feedback and market trends, I identified key areas for improvement and collaborated with my team to implement targeted outreach initiatives. This hands-on experience taught me how to leverage data for strategic decision-making and underscored my passion for driving sales performance.

Additionally, through my involvement in the university's business club, I led a team to organize a networking event that attracted over 200 participants, including industry leaders and potential clients. This initiative not only enhanced my networking skills but also provided me with valuable insights into building relationships that drive sales success. I am confident that these experiences have equipped me with the skills necessary to make meaningful contributions to Acme Corporation's sales team.

I am eager to bring my background in sales strategy and my commitment to excellence to the Internship Vp Sales role at Acme Corporation. I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experiences align with your needs, and I appreciate your consideration of my application. Thank you for considering my candidacy.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor