

Jordan Taylor

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: No Experience Interaction Designer

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the No Experience Interaction Designer position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With a passion for user-centered design and a keen interest in creating intuitive digital experiences, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to a company renowned for its innovative solutions and commitment to quality.

During my academic career at the University of Design, I had the opportunity to work on a collaborative project where I designed a mobile application aimed at enhancing student engagement on campus. This project not only allowed me to develop my design skills but also taught me the importance of user feedback in the design process. By conducting surveys and usability testing, I was able to iterate on the initial design, resulting in a final product that received positive feedback from over 80% of users for its ease of use and aesthetic appeal.

Additionally, I undertook an internship with a local startup, where I assisted in creating wireframes and prototypes for their e-commerce website. By applying principles of interaction design, I contributed to a redesign that improved the user flow, leading to a 15% increase in conversion rates. This experience ignited my passion for interaction design and solidified my desire to pursue a career in this field. I am eager to bring my unique perspective and fresh ideas to the team at Acme Corporation, and I am confident that my commitment to learning and my proactive approach will be valuable in this role.

I would love the chance to further discuss how my background and skills align with the goals of Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team and am excited about the opportunity to learn and grow in the role of Interaction Designer.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor