

Jordan Taylor

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: No Experience Print Designer

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the No Experience Print Designer position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on your careers page. As an enthusiastic individual with a passion for visual design, I am eager to contribute to your team and help create captivating print materials that resonate with your audience.

While I may not have formal experience in print design, I have actively engaged in several design projects during my time at university, where I earned a Bachelor's degree in Graphic Design. One notable project was a promotional campaign for a local non-profit organization, where I designed flyers and brochures that successfully increased event attendance by 30%. This experience taught me the importance of aligning design aesthetics with strategic goals, and I relished the challenge of creating visually appealing content within strict brand guidelines. Additionally, I undertook an internship with a local startup, where I collaborated with a team to design product packaging that received positive feedback from customers for its innovative visual approach.

I am particularly drawn to Acme Corporation's commitment to creativity and quality in print media. I believe my proactive mindset and strong willingness to learn will make me a valuable addition to your design team. I am eager to bring my ideas and energy to your projects and help elevate Acme's brand through effective print design. I would be grateful for the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasm align with the goals of your team.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing this exciting opportunity further and contributing to the innovative work at Acme Corporation.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor