

Jordan Taylor

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: No Experience Speech Pathologist

Dear Hiring Manager,

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the No Experience Speech Pathologist position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on your careers page. I am particularly drawn to this role because of Acme's commitment to innovative communication strategies and its supportive environment for early-career professionals. I am eager to contribute my skills and passion for helping individuals improve their communication abilities.

During my graduate studies in Speech-Language Pathology at State University, I had the opportunity to engage in a range of clinical experiences that prepared me for this role. For instance, I participated in a community outreach project where I collaborated with a team to develop and implement a speech and language screening program for preschool children. This experience taught me the importance of early intervention and allowed me to apply theoretical knowledge in practical settings, reinforcing my desire to become a speech pathologist. Additionally, I completed a research project focused on the effectiveness of various therapeutic techniques in improving articulation, which honed my analytical skills and deepened my understanding of evidence-based practices.

I am excited about the possibility of joining the Acme team and contributing to your mission of enhancing communication for individuals in need. I am particularly impressed by your focus on fostering a collaborative approach to therapy, and I am eager to learn from experienced colleagues while bringing my unique perspective as a recent graduate. I would greatly appreciate the opportunity to discuss how my background, skills, and enthusiasm can align with the goals of Acme Corporation.

Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing my candidacy further.

Sincerely,

Jordan Taylor