

Jordan T. Hayes

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation
RE: Penetration Tester

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the Penetration Tester position at Acme Corporation, which I discovered on your careers page. With my extensive background in cybersecurity and a proven track record in identifying and mitigating vulnerabilities in complex systems, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team and help safeguard your digital assets.

In my previous role at SecureTech Solutions, I successfully led a team in conducting comprehensive penetration tests for several high-profile clients, including a major financial institution. Our efforts uncovered critical vulnerabilities in their web applications, enabling the client to fortify their defenses before a significant security breach could occur. Additionally, I developed a custom automated tool that streamlined our testing process, reducing the time required for assessments by 30%, while maintaining our quality standards. These experiences have honed my skills in both manual testing and leveraging automated solutions to enhance efficiency and accuracy in vulnerability assessments.

Moreover, I actively collaborated with development teams to implement security best practices during the software development lifecycle. By conducting training sessions and creating detailed reports on our findings, I ensured that security was ingrained in their processes. This proactive approach not only improved the overall security posture of the organizations I worked with but also fostered a culture of security awareness among staff. I am eager to bring this same commitment and collaborative spirit to Acme Corporation.

I am looking forward to discussing how my skills and experiences align with the needs of your team. Thank you for considering my application; I hope to contribute to Acme Corporation's mission of providing secure and reliable services to your clients.

Sincerely,

Jordan T. Hayes