

Jordan A. Thompson

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Promotion Investment Banker

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Promotion Investment Banker position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on LinkedIn. With a robust background in finance and investment strategy, I believe my skills align perfectly with the innovative approach that Acme Corporation is known for in the investment banking sector.

In my previous role at Global Finance Group, I successfully led a team in executing a $250 million merger that increased our client's market share by 30%. By meticulously analyzing market trends and crafting a persuasive pitch, we not only secured buy-in from stakeholders but also established long-term relationships with key industry players. Additionally, I played a pivotal role in revamping our promotional strategies, which resulted in a 40% increase in the engagement rate of our investment offerings over a six-month period. This achievement exemplifies my ability to drive results through strategic planning and execution.

I am particularly drawn to this role at Acme Corporation because of your commitment to fostering innovation in investment banking. I am eager to bring my experience in developing tailored financial solutions and my strong analytical skills to your team. I am confident that my proactive approach will contribute to enhancing Acme's reputation as a leader in the industry.

I would love the opportunity to further discuss how my expertise aligns with the goals of Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your dynamic team.

Sincerely,

Jordan A. Thompson