

Jordan S. Mitchell

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Promotion Penetration Tester

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am excited to apply for the Promotion Penetration Tester position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on your careers page. With a robust background in cybersecurity and a passion for ethical hacking, I am eager to contribute to your team and help enhance your security posture in innovative ways.

In my previous role as a Penetration Tester at TechSecure, I led a team in conducting comprehensive penetration tests for high-profile clients, which resulted in the identification and remediation of several critical vulnerabilities. One notable achievement was orchestrating a simulated phishing campaign that successfully exposed key security weaknesses within a major financial institution, leading to a 40% increase in their overall security awareness program effectiveness. Additionally, I developed a custom tool that automated vulnerability scanning processes, reducing testing time by 30% while increasing detection rates.

I am particularly drawn to the Promotion Penetration Tester role at Acme Corporation because of your commitment to proactive security measures and continuous improvement. I am eager to bring my expertise in advanced penetration techniques and my ability to communicate complex security concepts to technical and non-technical stakeholders alike. I believe my background aligns closely with your needs, and I am confident in my ability to deliver significant value to your security initiatives.

I welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experiences align with the goals of Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your esteemed team.

Sincerely,

Jordan S. Mitchell