

Jordan A. Thompson

January 16, 2026

Acme Corporation

RE: Relocation Health Information Technician

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my enthusiasm for the Relocation Health Information Technician position at Acme Corporation, as advertised on Indeed.com. With a robust background in health information management and a passion for improving the relocation process for patients, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team's efforts in providing exceptional service and support.

In my previous role at HealthFirst Solutions, I successfully led a project to digitize patient records, which improved access to important health information for over 1,500 patients during relocations. By implementing an efficient electronic health record system, we reduced the time taken to retrieve patient data by 40%, ensuring that healthcare providers had timely access to critical information. Additionally, I developed a comprehensive training program for staff on the new system, which resulted in a 90% user adoption rate within the first three months.

Moreover, while working at MedAccess, I managed the relocation of health records during a facility move. I coordinated with multiple departments to ensure that all patient information was accurately transferred and secured. As a result of my meticulous planning and execution, we achieved a seamless transition with zero data loss, earning commendations from both management and colleagues. I understand the importance of accuracy and confidentiality in health information management, especially during relocations, and I am committed to upholding these standards in every aspect of my work.

I am eager to further discuss how my background and skills align with the goals of Acme Corporation. Thank you for considering my application; I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team and enhancing the relocation process for your patients.

Sincerely,

Jordan A. Thompson